Dear Dr Cesar Martin Mayer

IBA membership number / Login Username 1033160

As the global voice of the legal profession, the International Bar Association (IBA) is the most widely known international forum for discussion of issues affecting the practice of law. I am delighted that you have chosen to join over 16,000 colleagues from around the world through your membership of our Association.

The IBA recognises the challenges facing lawyers today in rapidly developing legal systems. We understand the need for practitioners to develop their own international practice. Your membership now provides you with the ability to actively contribute to discussions on issues that directly affect your practice through our continually expanding range of programmes. We also recognise the importance of supporting the freedom of the profession and many members have demonstrated their commitment through membership of our Human Rights Institute.

With your membership you will now start to receive regular IBA communications - including conference programmes, our practical and topical journals and the opportunity to support a number of initiatives undertaken by the IBA to help shape the future of the profession.

As an IBA member, you will be able to enter areas of the website restricted to members and take advantage of immediate access to our database of members, listing of programmes, our on-line and full text journals and discussion rooms. For immediate access visit our website at <http://www.ibanet.org>. Your membership number shown at the top of this letter is your username and your surname is the password.

Our website is constantly developing and we encourage you to provide us with your suggestions for improvement as we continue our commitment to make the site a valuable resource for the profession.

I hope you will take an active role in the IBA and its commitment to become a centre of excellence for the legal profession. I will be pleased to offer you further information or advice to ensure that you receive maximum benefit from your membership.

Yours sincerely
